The 1979 Odyssey Is Proudly Dedicated to Mrs. Emma Lou Jones

Forty years ago, Mrs. Emma Lou Jones began her career in education which has encompassed elementary and secondary schools, classroom and administration work, and at new and established schools. Her life's work embellished with dedication, efficiency, loyalty, and friendship adds up to one big well-earned SUCCESS.

Mrs. Jones can literally say that she has seen our Grissom Media Center grow "from the ground up" . . . the entire book collection that the school received upon opening was lined up, in the Dewey Decimal system, on the floor.

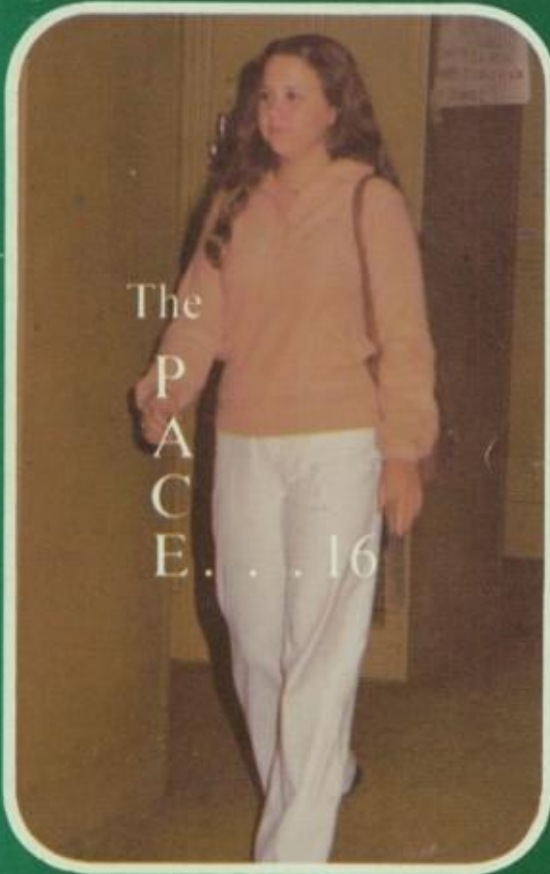

Members of the Student Christian Service Club benefitted from Mrs. Jones' sponsorship of the club for two years. In addition, Mrs. Jones has served ably as Chairman of the Accreditation Committee and other various Faculty-Staff Committees, including Master Points Co-ordinator for the past seven years.

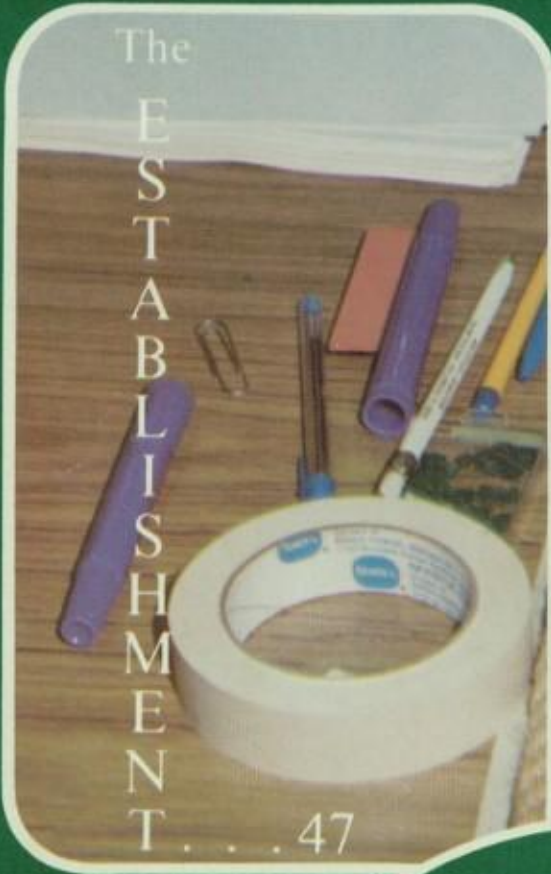

When Mrs. Jones retired in December, 1978, she had co-incidentally chosen to fill her last school position in a school famous for its firsts. Mrs. Jones has several "firsts" to her individual credit. She served as librarian when Wolfson Senior High, Ribault Senior High, and Stilwell Junior High first opened.

We, the members of the Odyssey VIII staff, realize that her helpful presence in the Media Center and throughout the school will be greatly missed. In dedicating this edition of the Odyssey VIII, we hope, on the behalf of all the students of Ed White, now and in the past, to show our appreciation for all her hard work and concern for all.

In November, twenty-four hopefuls of being crowned the 1979 Miss Ed White, began putting an act together that they felt would win the judges' approval. On the night of December first, after four practices and two dress rehearsals, the talent preliminaries commenced and produced sixteen contestants for the 1979 Miss Ed White Pageant. The girls immediately began selecting their evening gowns and streetwear, and worked even harder on perfecting their talent.

On the night of February 23, set to the mood of a Southern evening, the Hardwick Auditorium was filled to capacity. After the 16 contestants modeled their streetwear, evening gowns, and performed their talents, the judges selected the five finalists. Each finalist then answered a question of which they were judged on clarity and originality to help the judges make their final decision. It was: fourth runner-up, Miss Donna Mask; third runner-up, Miss Debbie Petersen; second runner-up, Miss Jeanne Dowling; first runner-up, Miss Robin Dedmon, and the new 1979 Miss Ed White, Miss Cindy Rhoden.

WHAT'S A

SENIOR?

Dedra Dean 11-N:

Someone who won't be here much longer but crams in all the fun he can . . .

Matt Bruton:

An overaged punk . . .

Patricia Myers:

A person who has gone through it all and who has come out smelling like a rose . . .

Donna Navarette 12-P:

A senior is a person who has gone through the first grade naps and third and fourth grade plays. He has gone through bussing and all the new tests they have come up with. A person who has finally received the right to be called a senior; he has the right to drive his car to school and pick on the little sophomores and juniors. This person who has gone through school for 12 years has earned the right to be called a mighty senior! . . .

Maria Marra 12-N:

The most privileged person in the school . . .

Daren Hoffman 12-C:

A leader in the school: powerful and bold!

WHAT'S A

Terri David 12-E:

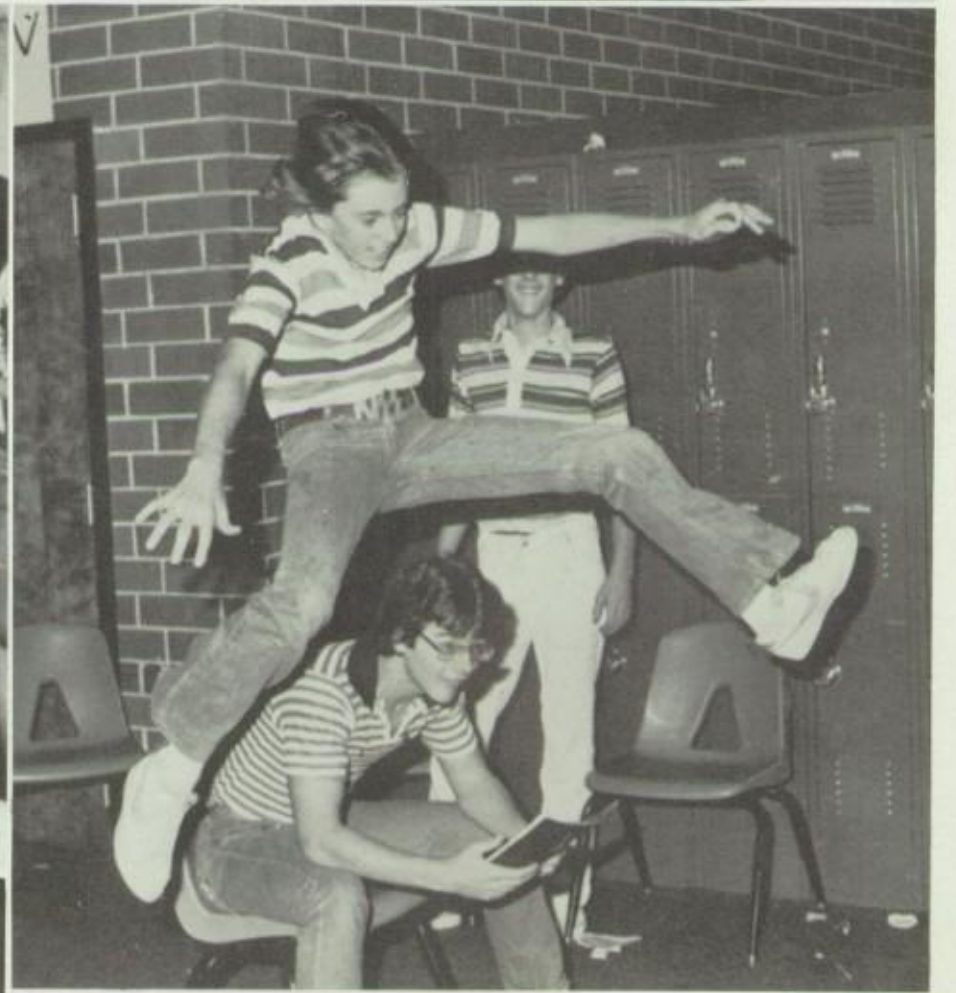

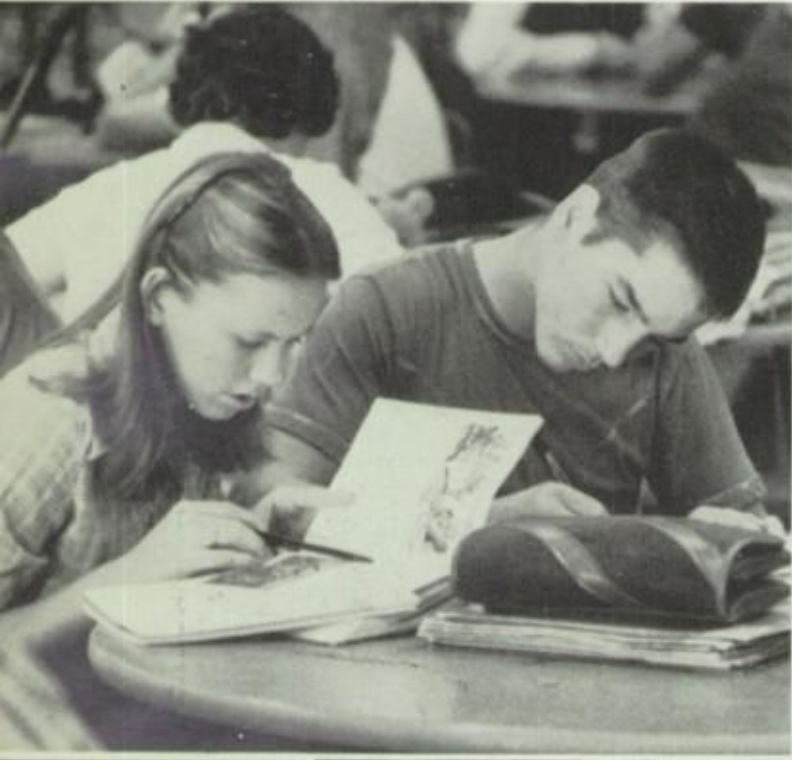

"Having to study because you goofed off the year before."

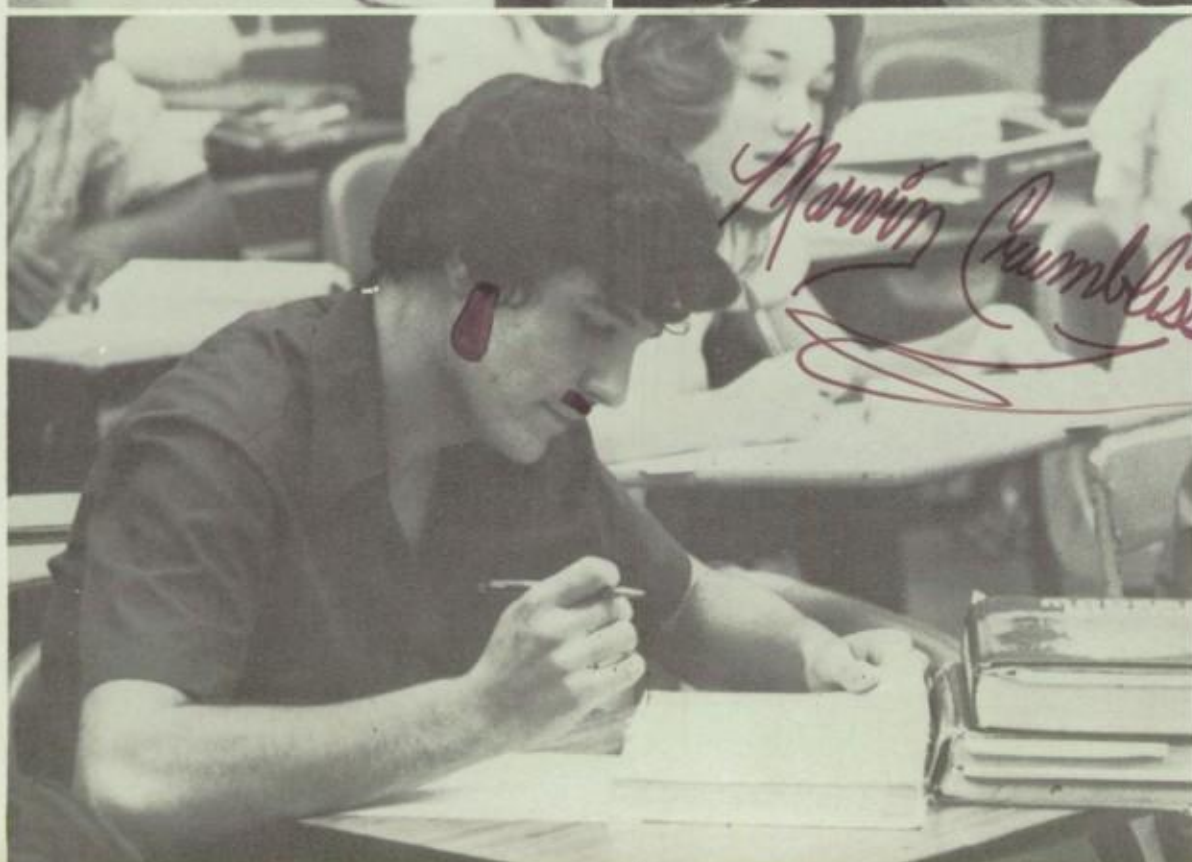

JUNIOR?

SOPHOMORE?

Laura Matthews — 12-P:

A student who always gets picked on by the rest of the high school and someone who is blamed for all the congestion in the halls . . .

Terri David — 12-E: •

Having to sit on the floor at pep-rallies and being told sophomores stink when you know you wore deodorant . . .

Randy Irvin — 10-C:

The poor, sweet, kind, beautiful and gullible person who thinks there is an upstairs, an escalator, and a swimming pool on the roof. But there is a nice side to this, they will be Juniors next year . . .

Bonnie Holliday — 10-L:

What ever a Junior or Senior thinks you are . . .

Patricia Myers:

Someone who gets lost and makes the mistake of asking a Senior to help . . .

Donna Navarrete — 12-P:

Allen Mallard and Cindy

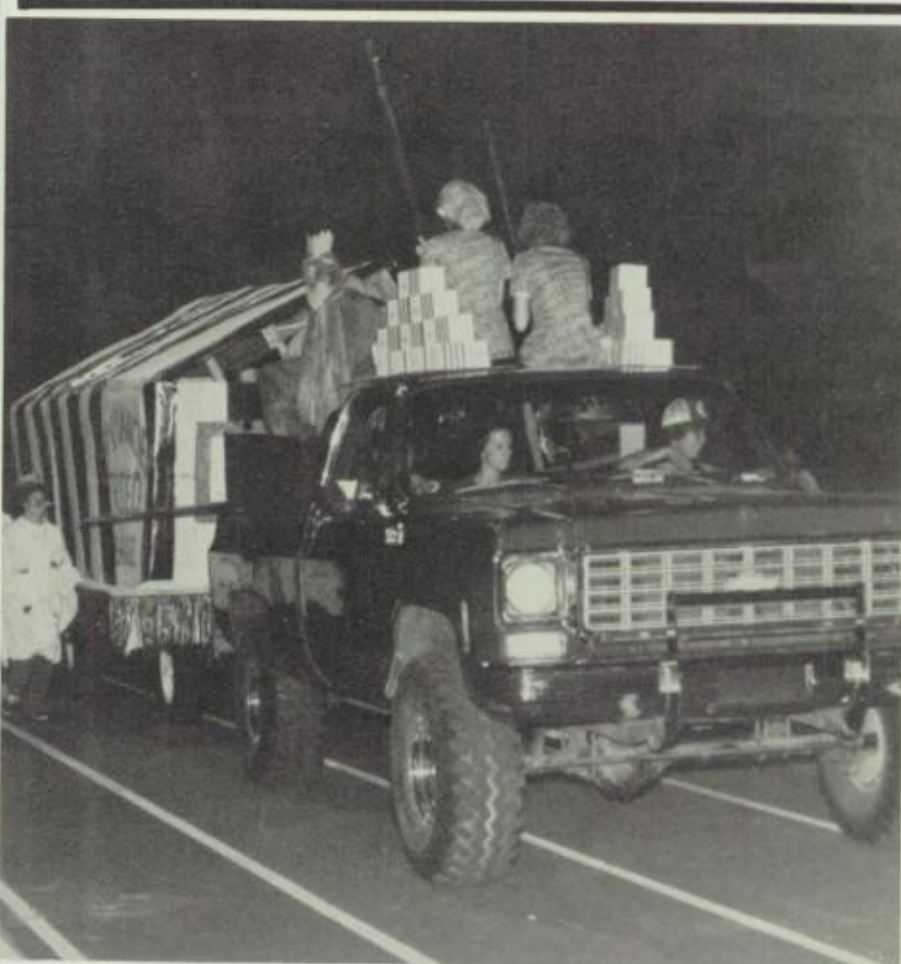

Homecoming '78 is one that shall always be remembered. Preparations and plans were started weeks in advance by the Homecoming committee and chairman, Carla Russell. To start Homecoming Week off with a blast, a pep rally was held the Friday before with a special "Sneak Preview" of Homecoming Week given by the Homecoming Committee. The Homecoming court was announced at the pep rally. The court was Lori Harden, Pat Ellis, JoAnn Sever, Craig Emerine, Dana Morgan, Randy Green, Corrine Sabangan, Randall Duggan, Cindy Thomas, and Allen Mallard.

Thomas Crowned King and Queen.

The Homecoming Committee spent many hours preparing "The Big Event", this year's theme. The Days of the Week were centered around the theme using movie titles for each day. Monday, October 9th, was "The Way We Were Day" which was very successful with students dressing as children. Seniors were seen playing "Duck, Duck, Goose", "Red Rover Red Rover", and "Mother, May I" in the cafeteria. Tuesday, the 10th, was "Grease Day — The Commander Way" with bobby socks, crinolines, "greased" hair, and pony tails seen all around the campus. The 11th, Wednesday, was "Ma and Pa Kettle go to Paxon Day", students were dressed in overalls, and gingam shirts, and, of course, farmer hats. Thursday, the 12th, was "Heaven Can Wait for the Eagles Day", on which students dressed in mourning clothes. Thursday night was the annual blast-off pep-rally with many new additions. Held in the Commander Stadium, the Blast-off was emceed by Darlene Denmark and Robert Cantrell. The Homecoming court was introduced to the crowd and the skits, floats, and posters competitions were judged. Junior class was awarded first place in skit, float, and poster competitions.

Even Wet Commanders

Friday, the 13th, should have been bad luck day but not for Commanders. The day started with the annual spirit breakfast held in the cafeteria at 6:30 a.m. Football players, cheerleaders, and sleepy students attended as did Mr. Thomblenson and the coaching staff. "Freaky Friday" as the day was named showed students wearing green and gold and their spirit hats. Spirit adorned the decorated halls with music, as the Marching Commanders marched through the halls Mod 16. Students and faculty were "fired-up" for Ed White's first Homecoming in the Commander Stadium.

Have Spirit!

Eight o'clock-game time, Commander Stadium was packed. Wet skies could not dampen Commander pride. The game started out and ended victorious over the Paxon Eagles. Paxon Marching Eagles presented a pre-game show, forfeiting their time during half-time to the crowning of Homecoming King and Queen. But by half-time, the clouds had burst open, flooding the stands. The Homecoming Court was then transferred to the cafeteria, where the Homecoming Dance was to be held, to await the crowning. After hearing the ending score, White — 34, Paxon — 0, and the arrival of the tired but happy football team, Homecoming King and Queen were announced, Jimmy Wilder and Donna Garrett reigning King and Queen proudly crowned Allen Mallard and Cindy Thomas Homecoming King and Queen 1978.

Good Morning, Student! You Are What You Eat!

The start of another perfect day, another perfect breakfast . . . with eggs, toast, sausage, and, of course an all time favorite, Captain Crunch. The perfect breakfast for a high school senior! On schedule, as usual, you sip another glass of orange juice while pausing to reflect on the benefits of a good breakfast. Today you could climb mountains, forge new trails, boldly go where no man has ever gone before (Mrs. Barclay's office during yearbook deadlines), easily become the eighth wonder of the world and just think it all started with a good breakfast!

His arm goes up like a shot everytime his teacher walks in. "Oh, Teacher, Teacher! I've got something to say." "Good Morning, dear Teacher!" Chalk up another 12 brownie points for Craig Emeline.

With blood pulsating at his temples and tendons vibrating in his rippling, bulging biceps, triceps, and pectorals, Craig strains to finish his daily workout. Always in his mind is his idol, Mark Spitz, whose muscles brought him fame, fortune, and seven gold medals in swimming. Craig's favorite sport, and he always ate his Wheaties!

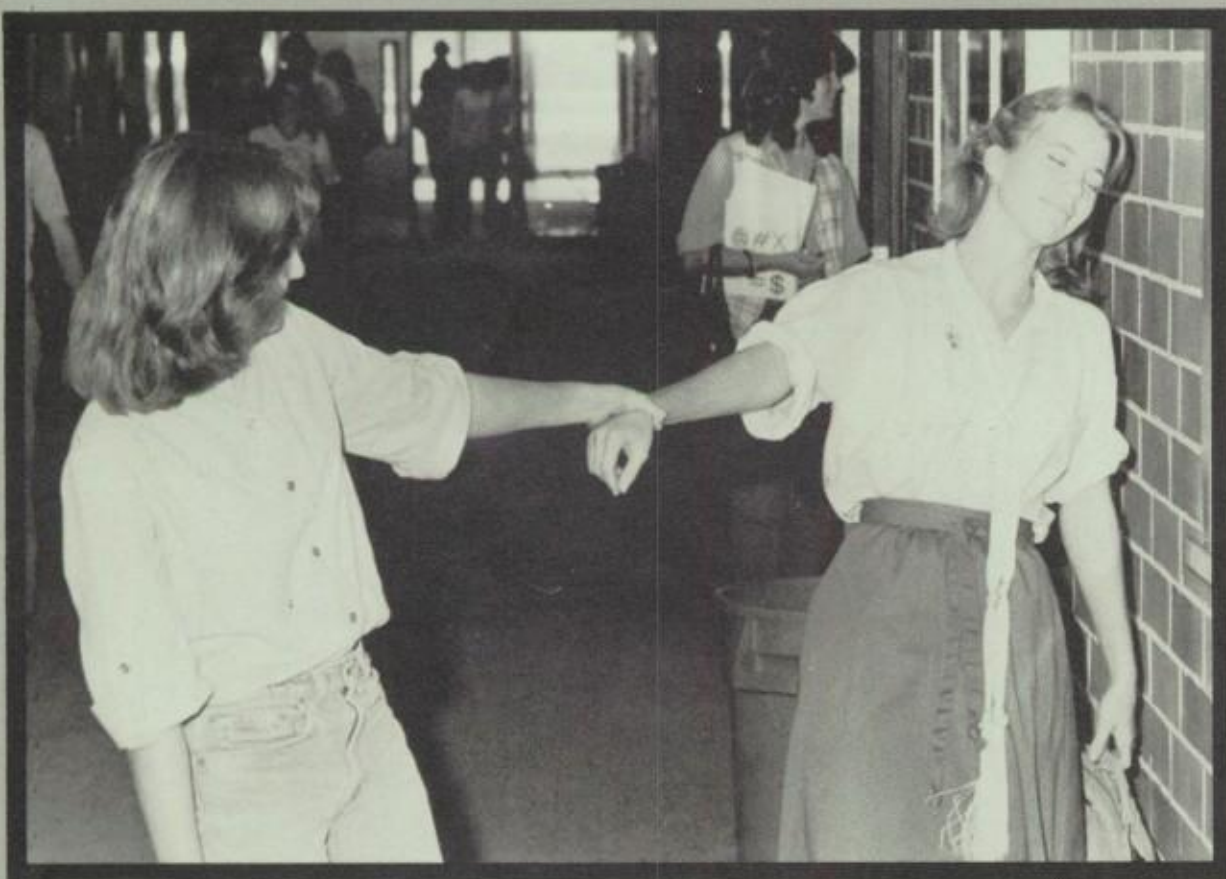

And Then Again

You Are What You Eat . . .

The start of another rotten day, another rotten breakfast . . . your mother burned the toast again and the last of the milk is on the floor. But it doesn't matter . . . you weren't really hungry anyway. Besides, you overslept and there's only time enough to drink the pop you left out last night and grab a few potato chips . . . How nourishing! Today, you can't find the energy to stay awake while walking down the hall, you'll get lost on your way to lunch, accidentally lock yourself in your locker and amaze your teachers with how exhausted you look, and to think it all began with a rotten breakfast.

Getting to class on time becomes a struggle for Denise Gladden when her friend, Cathy Gmuca, decides to take a nap on the way. A brick wall isn't as soft as a pillow, but Cathy, in her weakened condition, hardly seems to notice as she sleepwalks down the hall to her next class.

Thoughts of jumping jacks and sit-ups only increase Cathy's hunger and decreases her energy, as she sits in the solitude of the deserted locker room. Cathy definitely lacks snap, crackle, and pop all because of a rotten breakfast.

Here Is What He Envisions . . .

. . . When He Suggests to Her:

Curtis Johnson, dater: After 20 times of dialing the phone and hanging up on the first ring, I finally let someone answer. It was her brother. I heard him say, "Meredith, it's a boy. Are you home?" She came to the phone. "Hi, Curtis, this is Meredith . . . I mean Meredith this is Curtis." Boy, I'm really doing great. Not knowing what else to do, I accidentally invited myself over to her house, hoping we'd end up . . . alone . . .

I knew what she meant so we both decided it wouldn't be a good idea to come to her house. I started to get my act together when I remembered this quiet little park that was perfect for a picnic. A romantic dinner for two sounded super to me plus being broke sort of limits the areas of entertainment. Clearing my throat, I made the offer . . .

Loose lips sink ships and I was going down fast. The Bamboo Luau . . . with 50¢ in my pocket that didn't sound too great, obviously she had misunderstood. Well, time was running out so I decided to change my approach. "Frankly, Meredith, I don't give a darn about fancy dinners. I just want to be alone with you. How about a walk?"

A Portrait

of a date

Meanwhile, She
Replies to Him . . .

Meredith Chambers, datee: He finally did it! I knew that walking by his locker 10 times a day would eventually pay off. But come to my house? I nearly died. "Curtis, I know my Mom isn't keen about me having guys over. She's bound to send in the terrible twosome to keep us occupied . . ." There simply had to be something better . . .

. . . Because This Is What She Forsees:

Dinner? Terrific! He must mean the Bamboo Luau, it's quiet and romantic. Boy! He's smarter than I thought. The idea of an expensive dinner was just what I had in mind. "Oh Curtis, the Bamboo Luau is a perfect place for a romantic dinner for two and how did you know I just love Polynesian food?" . . .

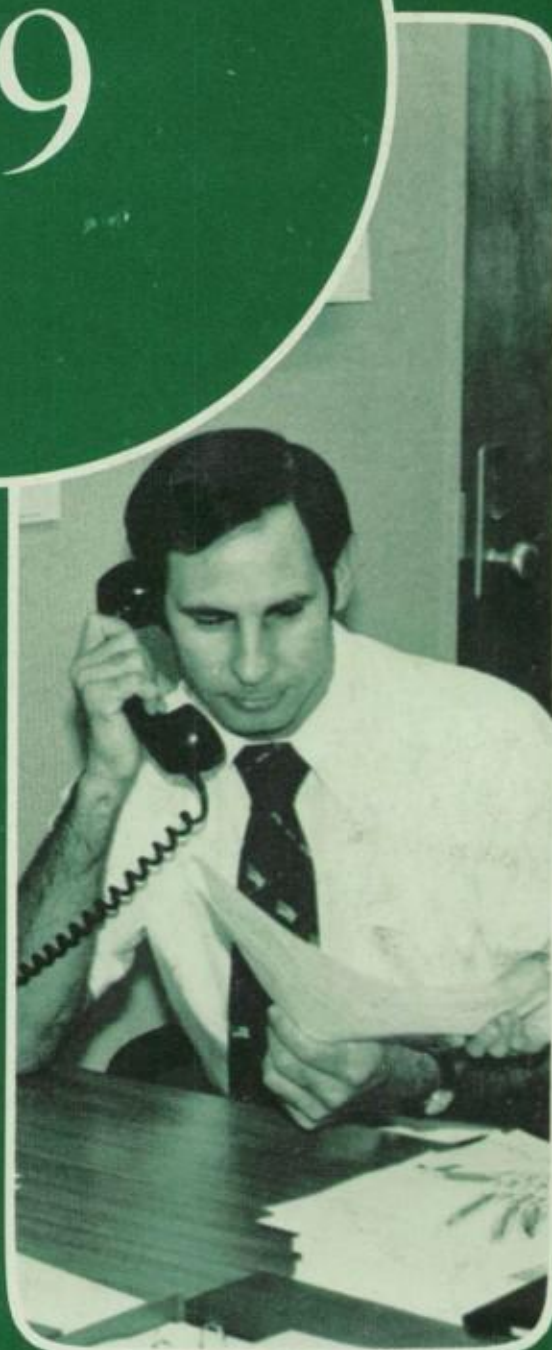

"Curtis, you devil, you. I bet you had that up your sleeve the whole time." Boy, some guys surely have to hand a girl a line before they get down to business. "It sounds wonderful. You're so romantic . . . a walk on a day like today is a super idea. I'll never get cold walking with you, Curtis."

Juniors are

The Junior Class displayed a great deal of spirit this year. It was shown by their unending work and energy throughout the Homecoming preparations and paid off by their winning first place in both skit and float presentations. They sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom and had a magazine sale to finance it. The leadership of the class officers and sponsors, together with the willing and eager students, made the Junior class a well organized, ready to work class.

The Junior Class would like to thank their sponsors for all the hard work and support that they gave them this year to make it the best year the Junior's have ever had. The Junior Class sponsors were: Mr. Wayne Cantrell, Mr. Stewart Dowless, and Miss Tere Jerrett.

Kelly Morgan takes

Although the sophomores had a new school and very different schedules to work with, they soon became adjusted to their new way of life. They were quick to get involved in school activities, and will work hard to see that their years at Ed White will be happy ones. They will be admired throughout the year as a class with much school spirit. Mrs. Annette Walker served as sophomore class sponsor.

1979-80 "Odyssey" Yearbook

Dear Mrs. Barclay and Ms. Russell:

Thank you for allowing me to select MISS ODYSSEY and three runner-ups. I don't know when I have had to make such a difficult choice! I really mean that.

Your letter of January 24th arrived yesterday via New York's William Morris office. I certainly hope the delay doesn't interfere with your deadline.

After a great deal of consideration, I have marked the back of the photos as you requested, but to tell you the truth, all nineteen photographs were beautiful.

My very best to your graduating class. I know the 79-80 yearbook, "THE ODYSSEY" will be a great success!

Cordially,

Robby Benson

Outstanding students

The scholastic rankings of the top six honor students for the class of 1979 were determined by the Guidance Department based on final grades of all courses taken in grades 10 and 11. At the yearbook publishing deadline in February, these six seniors were all contenders for the valedictorian and salutatorian honors. At the end of the third nine week grading period, all seniors were re-ranked, computing grades of all 10th, 11th, and 12th grade subjects. The valedictorian and salutatorian were determined at that time.

Odyssey VIII Staff: preserving memories through an outstanding yearbook.

The 1978-79 Odyssey staff spent many hours working on layouts, designing pages and striving for a quality yearbook. This year's editor Carla Russell, has provided the staff with outstanding leadership qualities and abilities. She spent a great deal of her spare time and holidays checking and re-checking layouts of the various sections in order to produce an outstanding yearbook.

N.H.S. Is Not Scholarship Alone.

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership and to encourage the development of character in all students of Ed White. Members of the NHS were selected by the faculty on leadership, scholarship, character, and service. A $200 scholarship was also awarded by NHS. Throughout the year, members have assisted in the walk-through scheduling, Homecoming Float, Thanksgiving baskets, and the formal induction of new members. They prepared the honor roll for each nine weeks, had a calendar sale, wrapped Christmas presents for hospital patients, and had a Christmas party. The National Honor Society attended a district meeting where they submitted a scrapbook to be judged. Student Council Provides School Government.

The Student Council was dedicated to providing a representative form of government for the betterment of the student body and the school. This year's Student Council worked very hard to bring out the democratic qualities of Edward H. White Senior High. Student Council led Commanders through Homecoming with great spirit and pride. During the month of December Student Council sponsored several Christmas activities. The goals accomplished this year by the Student Council will be long remembered by the student body.

Fashion through the centuries . . .

Fashion Merchandising is a program open to all twelfth grade students interested in learning more about the vast field of fashion. The class which is a part of the Distributive Education program at Ed White prepares the students for careers in fashion. The students study personal development, color, line and design. Sources of fashion, buying, and fashion coordination are also studied under this program. Many fashion show techniques are studied during the year. Under the coordination of Mrs. Trudye Blackard, the class has shown many variations of styles including past, present and future styles. The 1979 Fashion Merchandising class is the first group of girls since the school opened to tour New York City. They visited fashion designers, showrooms, Seventeen magazine headquarters, and much more. The experience gained will help them further their careers in Fashion Merchandising.

DECA Blue is working for you.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America — DECA — is a national organization with a program of leadership, personal development, and career encouragement. The DECA Blue is to all DE students what a civic or professional organization is to a group of businessmen. The purpose of the curricular clubs is to further develop education in marketing and distribution which will contribute to occupation competence, and to promote understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our private, competitive enterprise systems. DECA Blue won many awards and trophies in the District and State competition. The highlight of the year was the Annual Employer-Employee Banquet.

Can you believe it, even Terry Thomas can be serious when we are talking money in DE-I.

FBLA and CBE: We Mean Business!

F.B.L.A. was an in-class part of CBE-Cooperative Business Education. FBLA is a national organization designed to develop the business leaders of tomorrow. FBLAers participated in business competition such as accounting, typing, data processing, and about fifteen other contests. The Ed White FBLA Chapter was one of the most active and successful in Duval County. The most important activity in CBE-FBLA was the annual Employer Luncheon. The luncheon expresses appreciation to the employers for their help by providing office experience for the CBE students. Upon graduation, the majority of students became full-time office employees with the same company where they had been working as CBE students. The colors were blue and gold. The officers of FBLA were President, Barbara Wells; Vice President, Kathy Anderson; Secretary, Sharon Norton; Treasurer, Karen Smith; Historian, Lori White; Reporter, Rose Carter; Chaplain, Margie Hornack; Parliamentarian, Jeanie Lundborg.

Cross Country Team Carries

What did the Cross Country Team accomplish this year? They were 48-27-0 overall record, 6-1-0 in conference meets; fifth in the F.S.U. Invitational, second at the Conference championship, and District 2 champions.

"Over all it was a good season. We have still not reached all the goals that have been established, but they will come," Coach Dunn remarked. Although hurt by the graduation of all-conference, District and Region runners Kenny Lynch (15:24), Lewis Lawrence (15:37), and Mike Bugbee, the outlook is good for next season.

Ed White's Girls Volleyball Team, coached by Miss Aileen Britton, had a very good season ending with a 23-9 record. The girls finished second in the Western Gateway Conference and the District Tournament, while finishing third in the Jacksonville Invitational Tournament. All conference players were Corinne Sabangan and Dee Seabolt. Dee also was named to the All-Tournament Team in Plantation, Florida.

The Varsity Basketball Team looked for an impressive season at the start of the year. Coach Ray Moore expanded the team's schedule taking on top teams from all over the state. Six of the state's top ten teams were foes of the roundballers.

The Commanders finished third at the Fort Walton Beach Thanksgiving Tournament. Behind the performance of last year's All-Conference center, Steve Austin, the Commanders were one of the four contenders for the Western Conference title.

Coach Blackwood stated that this year's J.V. Basketball team was the strongest he has coached in his three years as coach. Their endurance helped them to finish among Raines and Ribault as one of the top three teams in the conference. Teamwork helped the Commanders to peak and come on strongly in their fight for the conference crown. The Varsity can rely on the members of this team to provide talent in the future.

Thirteen Seniors Give

This year's soccer team was the best yet. With thirteen seniors on the team and five returning All City Players, the chances of repeating as District Champions were enhanced. The team was preseasonally ranked fifth in the state and hoped to improve that. The season was dedicated to the seniors that worked hard for three years to make Ed White soccer the best in the area.

Although the baseball team lost thirteen seniors from last year's squad, the outlook was promising at the start of the season. A very strong nucleus of a (28-2) team returned. Under the direction of Miss Tere Jarrett, this year's swim team had a successful season. Their spirit was displayed early in the year when the team began practice and raised over $800.00 in October in the "Sink or Swim" fund-raising project. The practices were improved this season through the use of a pace clock. Also the swim team wore "Pain, Hurt, and Agony" T-shirts and yellow overalls throughout the year.

The Girls' softball team relied on the talent of last year's outstanding team. The 77-78 Commanders finished with a record of 15-2, averaged 8.8 runs per game, and compiled a team batting average of .511, which is outstanding. Returning lettermen were Stacey Knabb, Kelly Henderson, Dee Seabolt, Deena Geiger, Vicki Wade, Kim Clifton, Linda Kline, and Bonnie Smith. Cheerleaders voted Most Outstanding

Through unity and hard work, the Ed White cheerleaders prepared themselves for Golden Eagle Cheerleaders' Camp at Stetson University by devoting long summer hours to making money for the trip and practicing cheers. At camp, their spirit and enthusiasm were displayed each night as they received the spirit megaphone. Their originality was recognized when they won superior ribbons. Their highest honor was being selected as the "Most Outstanding Squad" by all of the other squads that attended.

During the school year the cheerleaders showed their spirit and dedication by cheering at all football and basketball games. Some of their projects which kept the teams' spirits high included decorating the players' locker rooms, making signs advertising the games, and being hostesses at Open House.

"Odyssey VIII" salutes

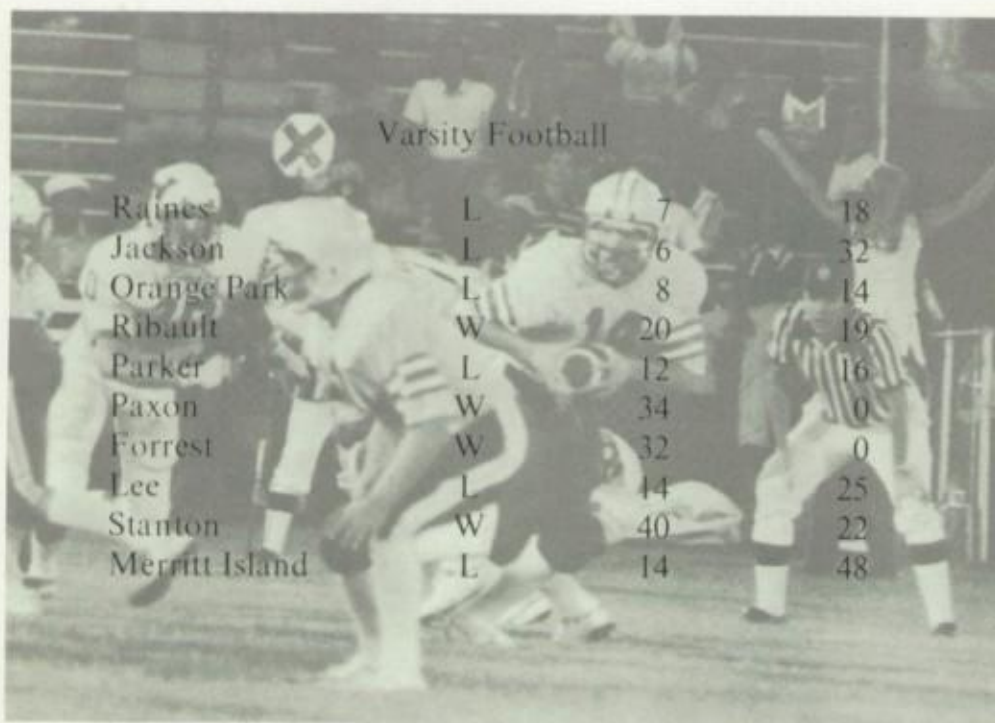

Coach Barry Gardner and his 1978-79 Soccer team finished the regular season with an 21-7-2 record. Looking for stiffer competition, our talented athletes played in the Seminole Christmas Classical. This was the first time any team from this area has competed in this celebrated tournament. The Commanders finished fourth out of the eight highly skilled teams.

In area play, the Commanders won the Bolles Christmas Tournament. Soccer became a conference sport this season for the first time and Ed White was the recipient of the conference title. Defense was a strong characteristic as the team recorded twelve shut-outs. The Commanders led the city in total offense with 88 goals in 24 games. The team is seeded number one in the district and ranked third in the state. The Commanders hosted the state play-offs in the Commander Stadium and also held a soccer clinic sponsored by the Coca-Cola Company and the North American Soccer League's Tampa Bay Rowdies. The community and student body should be very proud of the outstanding achievements of the 1978-79 Soccer team.

PATRONS

The final materialization of this, our eighth "Odyssey" is the result of many long hours of hard work. It is even more the encouragement and support of many people — both faculty and administration at our school, and parents and concerned friends in our community. The following people went a step further and supported us financially — a gesture which in itself makes us deeply appreciative.

Gosh,

you are a different kind of friend. Going out of town on the spur of the minute or getting sick all the time. it must be nice to be able to stay home '16" days. Anyway, sorry we didn't get in the same classes. Maybe we can next year. Hope to see ya over the summer ~~oops!~~ Hoops!

You're weird!

P.S. Write

You're that stay.

Leah,

you're a very nice girl even if Mr. Scales doesn't think so, maybe next year you could come to school and get some work done. Stay sweet and stay real nice; and if I were you I would take my advice;
even though the end is near; Please don't get crafty on your ear; well its time to say goodbye; Don't let me through a b.b. in your eye; see you soon and don't get fretful; because we won't be leaving school yet.

Love ya.

Editor's Note

When remembering your years here at Ed White, I hope the 1978-79 school year has made as many special memories for you as it has for me. Today and tomorrow, I sincerely hope as you look through this yearbook, you will be able to relive these memories through the work that the Odyssey VIII staff has put into this book. The staff tried to capture the various activities, organizations, and most of all, the people, that have made your year special.

In terms of actual production, the staff spent many hours working on layouts, designs, and new, creative ideas. I hope that the staff will never forget our lives together in the yearbook room. They have certainly made this a year none of us will soon forget. Just to remind them of the times we spent together: "What do you mean it goes in this deadline . . . This is my page . . . the juniors broke the camera . . . I quit . . . what about togas . . . Robert and Mac knock it off . . . since when do you have a conflict . . . this isn't working . . . what's a cropper . . . Hi Guy! . . . No, we can't salute the family. . . . Never yell at an editor, she can always yell louder . . . this is it people . . . MONA!! . . . who ate the grease pencil . . . where's the job stamp . . . This is #13 something's bound to go wrong . . . wonder what happened to all the football pictures of #12 and #51 . . . well, what about the togas . . . Don't call me boss . . . Animal Staff is on the loose." I would like to thank the Odyssey VIII staff for all their time, hard work, and most of all, your friendship.

Special appreciation and thanks is given to Mrs. Brenda Barclay, Editorial Advisor. She has put up with the trials, frustrations, and tribulations of being advisor to this staff, which is more than anyone could expect out of any sane person. I would like to thank her for all her time, support, friendship, and most of all, her love, which is most appreciated and sincerely returned. I feel that just saying thanks is not enough for such a special lady.

The staff and myself are also indebted to: Mr. Kyle Duncan, our Taylor Publishing Company representative, for his understanding, patience and his guiding hand in all of our problems; Mr. Stan Ballinger and his staff at Bryn-Alan did many favors for the staff with their last minute schedules and rushes. I would also like to thank Mr. Mick Bowden, a photographer, for all his special help and friendship that he has given to the staff and myself; Mrs. Marva Salary, Business Advisor, and Kay Key, Business manager, for their fine handling of the books, sales, and financial problems that occurred within the course of the year. I would also like to thank Mrs. Salary's Business Law class for their eagerness to help out in any way possible.

In addition, I would like to thank some very special staff members. Your hard work, support, and willingness to take on any given responsibility made my job a lot easier. Thank you, Debbie Oliphant, Tammy Dick, Meredith Chambers, and Debbie Petersen for all your help, and last but not least, Darlene Denmark, for giving me your friendship and the extra push I often needed to keep things going. The person, I feel, that deserves thanks most of all is my mom. Thanks, Mom, for putting up with me through every page of this yearbook.

Finally, I am especially grateful for the co-operation of the students, faculty, and administration who were sometimes inconvenienced on several occasions when pictures were taken or information was needed to write copy. It was only with the help, effort, and understanding of these people, along with the financial investments of the local business organizations and parents, that the Odyssey VIII staff was able to bring you the memories of Ed White's 1978-79 school year.

Best Wishes,

Carla Russell
